

GET TO KNOW GINA

Gina Alber has been a trusted educator for over 25 years, using her expertise to bridge the gap between students, families, educators, and disability services. Her work with educational teams has helped address the unique needs of students with IEPs, leading to positive outcomes as they transition from high school to adulthood. The programs she developed continue to serve as valuable resources for teachers, guiding them in supporting families and ensuring compliance with relevant services.

In addition to her role as an educator, Gina is committed to her community as an adjunct professor and board member for nonprofit organizations. Her experience teaching future educators and providing workforce consulting has given her valuable insights into the training needs required to build strong, effective teams. Gina is dedicated to helping individuals access the education, career development, and disability services they need to succeed.

CAREER AND DISABILITY SUPPORT

WITH GINA ALBER

GINA ALBER
CONSULTING

EDUCATIONAL CAREER PLANNING

Gina understands that supporting a loved one with disabilities requires more than just resources—it takes advocacy, understanding, and careful planning. She works closely with families to help them navigate the complexities of education and career planning. By offering both practical advice and emotional support, Gina helps families create personalized, person-centered plans that reflect their young adult's unique needs and aspirations. She educates family members on the options available, ensuring they're well-equipped to advocate effectively. Whether it's understanding benefits, finding resources, or preparing for transitions, Gina empowers families to confidently guide their young adult toward success in education and career.

DISABILITY BENEFITS COUNSELING

APPLICATION FILING ASSISTANCE

Gina can help you navigate government programs to ensure you or your child receive the resources and rights you are entitled to. She works closely with individuals to assist with the entire process, from application through appeal, if necessary.

BENEFITS PLANNING

Navigating disability benefits can be complex, but Gina is here to help you make the most of the support available. As a certified Benefits Information Network counselor, Gina has been trained by the State of Indiana on complex laws relating to Medicaid/Medicare and Social Security programs, to assist people in understanding their own situations. She will work with you to explain how life changes can impact benefits.

PROFESSIONAL COACHING

Gina leads team training that builds staff resiliency and enhances team communication skills. She leads training in Non-profit Team Building Strategies, and DiSC Profile training fostering synergy, and promoting cooperation within the organization. She conducts training for educators on legal topics such as Article 7, as well as other disability-related subjects, empowering educators to meet the needs of diverse learners and students with disabilities.
